

Refuse To Pay!

PREMIERS SHOULD TELL BENNETT THEY DO NOT INTEND TO PAY OUT MORE INTEREST ON "SOUND" MONEY TO SUPPORT THE VICTIMS OF UNEMPLOYMENT.

Use Public Credit

An Editorial

The Premiers of the four western provinces, or their representatives, are to visit Ottawa on invitation of Right Hon. R. B. Bennett, in order to discuss the Dominion Government what are their minimum requirements in regard to relief.

It is quite evident from Mr. Bennett's attitude at Calgary, and from the telegram of Sir George Perley, that the provincial Premiers are expected to approach the federal authority in the humble and chastened spirit of men seeking alms, rather than as public representatives demanding what is due as a matter of right to those for whom they speak.

If the provincial Premiers are wise they will not go to Ottawa with their hats in their hands and pleading on their lips. They and their predecessors have done that for the past four years, and have got nothing in return but the privilege of paying one-third of the "dole" handed out grudgingly to men who had been deprived of employment by action of the Dominion Government and parliament.

High Time To Speak Plainly

It is high time for the provincial premiers to speak to Mr. Bennett plainly and firmly, to the effect that they do not intend to continue to pay high interest rates on "sound" money while dissipating their revenues to support a large proportion of their constituents in undeserved and unwilling idleness.

Provincial and municipal authorities have ruined their taxpayers by playing hand in hand with Ottawa's "sound" money racketeers. If they have any proper sense of responsibility, or any wholesome regard to their own political future, the provincial Premiers will demand now that the use of the public credit be made available without interest to provide employment for the idle thousands whom their taxpayers are no longer in position to support. The representatives of the provinces should demand funds without interest with which to put idle men at work for wages, or tell Mr. Bennett they do not propose to pay one cent more of interest on their bonded debts.

Alberta People Tired Of Inaction

The people of Alberta, and of all the other provinces, are sick and tired of the inaction that has allowed the forces of destruction to run unchecked throughout Canada and spread destruction from one coast to the other. The public intend to get action now; witness what happened in British Columbia, in Ontario, and in Saskatchewan. Precisely the same fate awaits do-nothing governments in other provinces—and that of the Dominion—quite regardless of what political names they may call themselves by.

Building military palaces and Mounted Police barracks as a plan to end unemployment was doomed to failure the moment it was announced. "Direct relief" is doomed because the taxpayers can no longer continue to hand out money for no return. Nothing but a works program on a major scale can function now as a real measure of adequate relief.

Dominion Has No Such Program

As the Dominion has no such program, the alternative is for the provinces and municipalities to create such work projects. They cannot do that if the money has to be borrowed at high interest rates. The people of Edmonton, of Alberta, and of Canada have been robbed by the "sound" money system to the point of exhaustion. It is time for a showdown, and that it is up to the provincial Premiers to call for that and show up when they go to Ottawa at the end of this month.

Interest-free money for relief works programs, or no more payments of bond-interest—that is the choice with which they should confront Mr. Bennett.

TRY TO BILL EXTRA RELIEF

$500,000 Burden Is Felt

Despite the fact that the Dominion government has reduced its contribution to relief from 21 1/2 to 25 per cent, after last Monday, the city will continue to bill the government with the difference, it was decided by city council at an emergency meeting Friday.

The estimate board endorsed the action of commissioners in protesting the 8 1/2 per cent cut. It was explained the reduction would mean an increase of $800,000 per month in relief cost to the city, or about $800,000 for the remainder of the year.

H. F. McKee, manager of the special relief department, will be established to keep a separate account of such expenditure and bill the government with it in the regular way.

DON'T INVITE TROUBLE

President Green of the American Federation of Labor says that organization neither ordered nor sanctioned the strike at the Jap-Russians, Trochu. That is important to the A. F. L., but not of much benefit to the people and business interests of St. Paul.

War is war, whether it is regularized by a declaration or just started without formalities. Thirty years ago the Japanese were accused of first sinking the Russian battleship, the Potemkin, in the Black Sea. Whether the charge was true or not, there isn't any doubt that the Russian ships went down, nor why they went down.

The San Francisco Japanese were put out of business, and the people of that area who found themselves and their property endangered by riots, cannot call for compensation from the knowledge that the general strike was an outbreak of irregular industrial strife, and not a duly ordered and accredited branch of industrial action.

That the longshoremen struck without waiting for orders or sanction, and were promptly joined by other trades unions in thousands, is an illustration of how certainly people react when they find or think they are being victimized by measures to arbitrarily take their cost of living.

Canada does not want any general strike, or strikes of any kind, and one way to minimize the likelihood of such things coming off is to keep clear of measures which give one class cause to think they are being penalized for the benefit of some other class. The safe thing to do with the proposal to put retail business in Alberta under a price-raising code is to forget it.

TOURISTS FORCE THE ISSUE

Jasper Park is altogether too fine a mountain resort to be kept permanently barred against the holiday-seekers of the continent, as a preserve for the comparatively small number of tourists who do their touring by train. That policy of isolation has been tried for twenty years, and the result is that Jasper draws only a small fraction of the tourists who would come and would go there every summer if it were reachable by a dependable, all-weather highway.

This summer the motor tourists are forcing the issue. They are coming in by the Jasper trail in considerable numbers, despite warnings, and coming to grief in its bog-holes. If only local motorists would be wise and keep their cars off the trail, the public consequences might not be serious. But when a motor tourist from the United States or eastern Canada gets stalled in the canyons, his neighbors and friends at home are going to hear about it, and the members of his local motor association.

The Jasper trail, and Alberta highways infrequently, are in for some very undesirable publicity next winter in the hands of the continent from which Alberta hopes to draw thousands of motor visitors each summer; and Jasper and all interests in Jasper will suffer accordingly.

There is only one way to off-set that; to start the graders and gravelers going forthwith, and make it known, as wide as possible, that the opening of another tourist season will see a permanent all-weather highway from Edmonton to Jasper and the finest scenery in the Canadian Rockies.

EDMONTON'S FAIR

The management of the Edmonton Exhibition must have a strong pull on the weather. The stars in their course "smiled down on the Fair, contrary to the prospects. After a month of almost daily rain, the weather has cleared and successive days of ideal fair weather, sunny and warm, but not uncomfortably hot, broken only by a shower on Friday afternoon.

Thanks largely to that favoring circumstance, it is not necessary to wait for the financial reports to know that the Fair was successful. From the box-office stand-point, the Fair broke the records of last year, and made certain that the accounts will show a balance on the right side, possibly a large one.

The attendance was uniformly good, the holiday spirit very much in evidence, and spending-money apparently more plentiful than the times would suggest. When this is the case, after four years of severe depression and enforced unemployment, it is not surprising that ever that Edmonton's Fair is holding its place first among the town-fests and outside the city.

Congratulations are accordingly in order.

The Passing Show

While Mr. J. S. Cooper is on his summer vacation, the passing show is being put on the publication, daily until concluded, of the evidence given by G. G. McGee, K.C., M.L.A. of Vancouver, before the Banking Committee of the House of Commons. This evidence has been published heretofore, but it is the first time it has ever been given in its entirety by a newspaper.

After fifty-two years of continuous existence the Fair is not only "going strong" but going stronger than ever.

The question of securing a thoroughly practicable right of way from the business centre of the town to the river at the lower end of the town has been a matter of importance at the present time by reason of the necessity for an early decision by the Dominion government on the proposed traffic bridge. There is every reason to believe that at least a show of going on with the bridge will be made at Leduc, and the knowledge of the business interests of this town require that the bridge should be located, namely some place near the lower ferry landing, and every one knows that the bridge has been brought to bear to have it located elsewhere, at a point where it would be of the least possible benefit to the present business interests of the town.

Poems That Live

ONCE ON A TIME
Once on a time I used to dream
Of a world where peace and love
And I might catch a glimpse of heaven
A glimpse of glory or joy;
There were visions mingled with my own,
So far from reality, that I dreamt;
And when I found my dream was true,
I woke—and found my dream was true.

For one is clad in cloth of fur,
And one is decked with feathers gay;
Stranger, sister, will prefer
A sober suit of Quaker gray;
This one's your servant from his birth,
And that one's master from his birth;
And that one likes to shake your mirth,
And that one likes to shake your mirth.

O gracious creature, tiny soul!
You seem so near, so far away,
Yet while the cloudland roars you roll,
We love you better than we say.

The increasing difficulty in collecting municipal taxes in Canada from 1930 to 1933 is shown in a bulletin of the Citizens' Research Institute. Fortunately, there is no improvement in collection in Winnipeg this year, and this is no doubt true of many other municipalities. In Winnipeg, in spite of a lower per capita tax levy than in Vancouver, Calgary or Edmonton, had a larger percentage of its levy collected at the end of the year—Winnipeg 94 per cent.

Move Into Your Mental Mansion

By DOCTOR FRANK MCCOY

Americans are accused of being a nation of movers—no sooner does an American family get settled in a house than it finds it likes better and moves away. The average family expects to keep moving into better and better homes as time goes by. The habit of moving is a good one, so long as it is accompanied by improvement in living conditions and is secured with each new home.

However, in looking forward to a better home to live in, it is a good plan at the same time to seek better and more satisfactory mental mansions. Try to improve your mind while improving the house in which you live.

Dr. F. McCoy After all, the only place you really live is in your mind. Move into a mental mansion where you will be at home with good thoughts and high ideals.

Many people build mental homes that you could compare to flimsy shacks so weak they hardly stand against the storms of life. It is no disgrace to start life in a mental shack, but it is a disgrace in being willing to stay there. If you are discontented, miserable, or irritated by defeat and anxiety you are in a mental shack. The thing for you to do is this: Begin now to build a better mental life for yourself.

Think in terms of power and friendship. Make your mental life satisfying. Move into a mental mansion where you will be at home with good thoughts and high ideals.

In building your mansion, you will need supporting timbers taken from the sturdy tree of friendship. To gain friends, be a good friend to all you meet. Speak a good word for others and look for things you can honestly praise in them. If you radiate one hundred friendly thoughts, some of them will be sure to come back to you.

To build your mansion, put in as foundation stones, thoughts of courage, honesty and confidence. At first the habit of thinking positive thoughts will not be easy, however, if you repeat them often enough, they will become a habit. Hammer into your sub-conscious mind thoughts of faith, courage and power. Say to yourself every time each day, "I can, I will, I am doing it."

Right now, you are choosing whether you will be a shadow or a power. You must be the choosers, nobody else can do it for you. Be sensible and move away from those tormenting thoughts you do not want. Move toward happiness, confidence and courage and see what a big change follows.

Horoscope

By MARY BLAKE

If July 21 is your birthday, it might be a good idea to follow the example set by every competent factory or business manager. At various intervals he takes stock, and makes a careful inventory of everything he has, and writes off or gets rid of what is found to be worthless. Your mind is a busy little factory, creating much value and much waste. It might be well once a week to take an inventory of it.

If a woman and July 21 is your birthday, you possess a fearless spirit and are capable of facing bravely any situation that might arise. Your love is of the lasting quality that will stand any test. Devotion to family and friends is one of your recognized characteristics.

If a man and July 21 is your birthday, you are rather inclined to do things on the spur of the moment. It might be advisable to develop the habit of not making hasty decisions. You should in time, make a great deal of money and win an enviable reputation in whatever line of endeavor you undertake.

If you were born between July 23 and August 21, in the Zodiacal sign Leo, you should be the possessor of a strong, self-reliant character. Always ready to oblige, or be of service, very liberal, and scrupulous to an unusual degree are qualities which attract people to you, and cause friendship to be readily formed. Leo people are as a rule very lucky. Bravery is another characteristic, which accompanied by cheerfulness, is to make an attractive personality. This July 23 will be by no means a "blue" Monday, but should, on the whole, prove a very happy, busy day, with gratifying results in the way of actual accomplishment of things undertaken. The planning of social activities should in time, make a great deal of money and win an enviable reputation in whatever line of endeavor you undertake.

If a woman and July 21 is your birthday, you possess a fearless spirit and are capable of facing bravely any situation that might arise. Your love is of the lasting quality that will stand any test. Devotion to family and friends is one of your recognized characteristics.

If a man and July 21 is your birthday, you are rather inclined to do things on the spur of the moment. It might be advisable to develop the habit of not making hasty decisions. You should in time, make a great deal of money and win an enviable reputation in whatever line of endeavor you undertake.

If you were born between July 23 and August 21, in the Zodiacal sign Leo, you should be the possessor of a strong, self-reliant character. Always ready to oblige, or be of service, very liberal, and scrupulous to an unusual degree are qualities which attract people to you, and cause friendship to be readily formed. Leo people are as a rule very lucky. Bravery is another characteristic, which accompanied by cheerfulness, is to make an attractive personality. This July 23 will be by no means a "blue" Monday, but should, on the whole, prove a very happy, busy day, with gratifying results in the way of actual accomplishment of things undertaken. The planning of social activities should in time, make a great deal of money and win an enviable reputation in whatever line of endeavor you undertake.

Americans are accused of being a nation of movers—no sooner does an American family get settled in a house than it finds it likes better and moves away. The average family expects to keep moving into better and better homes as time goes by. The habit of moving is a good one, so long as it is accompanied by improvement in living conditions and is secured with each new home.

However, in looking forward to a better home to live in, it is a good plan at the same time to seek better and more satisfactory mental mansions. Try to improve your mind while improving the house in which you live.

Dr. F. McCoy After all, the only place you really live is in your mind. Move into a mental mansion where you will be at home with good thoughts and high ideals.

Many people build mental homes that you could compare to flimsy shacks so weak they hardly stand against the storms of life. It is no disgrace to start life in a mental shack, but it is a disgrace in being willing to stay there. If you are discontented, miserable, or irritated by defeat and anxiety you are in a mental shack. The thing for you to do is this: Begin now to build a better mental life for yourself.

Think in terms of power and friendship. Make your mental life satisfying. Move into a mental mansion where you will be at home with good thoughts and high ideals.

In building your mansion, you will need supporting timbers taken from the sturdy tree of friendship. To gain friends, be a good friend to all you meet. Speak a good word for others and look for things you can honestly praise in them. If you radiate one hundred friendly thoughts, some of them will be sure to come back to you.

To build your mansion, put in as foundation stones, thoughts of courage, honesty and confidence. At first the habit of thinking positive thoughts will not be easy, however, if you repeat them often enough, they will become a habit. Hammer into your sub-conscious mind thoughts of faith, courage and power. Say to yourself every time each day, "I can, I will, I am doing it."

Right now, you are choosing whether you will be a shadow or a power. You must be the choosers, nobody else can do it for you. Be sensible and move away from those tormenting thoughts you do not want. Move toward happiness, confidence and courage and see what a big change follows.

QUESTION—May C. asks: "Which is more easily digested—potatoes or bread? Which is more nourishing?"

ANSWER—If potatoes are cooked properly, they are more completely digested than bread, and are as nourishing as bread, and contain only about half as many calories or heat units as bread.

WILL GERMAN'S FATE

RE OUTRAGED
It is with no great surprise that the people of the continent learn that the German government has decided to leave Canada by land and sea, and the jury took only 20 minutes to return a verdict of guilty.

We have long heard sinister whispers of treachery from certain German leaders. The love of money, it was said, was the motive force in their contemporary German loyalty.

Now we are told by Herr Hitler in plain and understandable language that the German government has decided to leave Canada by land and sea, and the jury took only 20 minutes to return a verdict of guilty.

It is a horrible and shocking situation, and it is a pity that the German government should have been so foolish as to allow itself to be so easily deceived.

Will Germany's fate be America's?—Vancouver Sun.

Richard had learned the story of Columbus at the school, and was telling it to his mother. "An old man," he said, "discovered America."

"Paw, what's an adventure-mission?" he asked. "An adventure-mission," explained the father, "is the picture of a man who goes to a distant land, and brings back news of it."

RIALTO BOOKS FINE PROGRAM

Constance Cummings likes the film. In fact she likes them so well that this lovely American, known as the Cinderella girl of Hollywood, was looking forward to filming "Channel Crossing," which she and Matheson Lang, producer, are co-starring in the Rialto theatre to-day Monday.

What finer evidence of her admiration for the picture could she possibly give?

The fortunate young man is Benny W. Lewis, one of England's leading lightweights, who originally met Miss Cummings while on a visit to Hollywood. The couple are living in Hollywood at present, but are looking forward to settling down in England when circumstances permit.

Miss Cummings was born in Seattle in 1910 and arrived in Hollywood after a stage career in New York. Resolved to have a screen career, Miss Cummings stayed in Hollywood and was finally rewarded with the role of opposite "Lord in 'Movie Cross'." Whether she journeyed to England to appear in "Channel Crossing" or to be with her present husband is not clear, but she is certainly a happy couple both as wife and actress.

A two-year Harry Langdon comedy, "No Sign On 'D' Day," a vintage musical with John Jones and his orchestra, also is featured of The Years complete the program.

WOMAN DIES OF OIL BURNS

VANTAGE, Sask., July 21.—Mrs. Carl Magnusson, burned when coal oil exploded as she was alone in a kitchen fire, died later in Assiniboia hospital. Her 14-year-old son made an heroic effort to smother the flames that enveloped his mother but she was so severely burned that she died within a few hours after being admitted to the hospital.

West's Slogan Might Prompt Bulbs To Grow

ROGER PERRY, Mae West's leading man in her new drama, "I Ain't No No. 1," received a letter today on the morning when it was disclosed that "I Ain't No No. 1" had gone in for garden.

It seemed the bulb revealed a dozen plant bulbs along with an assigned note reading:

"I hope they come up some time."

Working in an absolute-lit stage, and with most of the studio fire department standing by with extinguishers in hand, Mae West went through one of the most dangerous scenes ever filmed. For "I Ain't No No. 1," she dressed in a fluffy feathered outfit, had to get fire in the fireplace of a room, then run through the flames to rescue Katherine De Mille, locked in a closet. "That's one hot scene the censor can't touch," cracked Mae.

Alice Hagan Rice's "Mr. Wiggs of the Calhoun Place," which is being filmed with Mae West in the title role, is slated among the 65 best selling books since 1925.

Kitty Carlisle has not attended a single party, night club or social function since her mother, Mrs. Evelyn Carlisle, died.

GREAT TEAM RE-UNITED AT CAPITOL

Eighteen months ago the world-famous team of Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell dissolved on the completion of "Tess of the Storm Country."

Today a flood of presents marked the separation from screen fans and film exhibitors throughout the civilized world, "Change of Heart," at the Capitol theatre.

With them appears a brilliant supporting cast, headed by James Dunn and Ginger Rogers, Beryl Mercer, Gustav Von Seyffertitz, Otto Kruger, Shirley Temple, Jane Darwell and Ella Walker also have important roles.

Never since the immortal "It Happened One Night" has a picture appeared in films of a purely ideal type. Since "It Happened One Night," in particular, Mr. Streehan has wisely avoided casting them against a decorative background.

It is a new and more mature Janet who appears in "Change of Heart," a Janet who has added the juvenile aspects of her former films to a face of more serious characterization. The story, taken from Kathleen Norris' vivid novel of romance during the depression, "Manhattan Love Song," gives her a perfect vehicle in which to make this transition.

Coming to the Capitol next Wednesday for an engagement of three days is "Operator 13," with Marion Davies and Garry Cooper.

Hollywood Gossip INTIMATE GLIMPSES AND INSIDE STUFF ON THE MOVIE COLONY

By DAN THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, July 21.—Probably the staunchest supporter of the stock company to be found in Hollywood is Cecil B. DeMille. Instead of changing players for his various productions, as most directors are wont to do, DeMille uses the same actors whenever possible.

Even most of the extras are the same in picture after picture. One girl, Margaret Bonner, started out as an extra in "Manila" 12 years ago and has appeared in every DeMille film since.

And the stars whom he helped to build up made many pictures under his banner.

Theodore Roberts made 20, Raymond Hatton was in 16, Elliott

The giant wheel started turning, also the turntable upon which the stars revolved. Most blared forth and the girls went into their intricate dances.

"Carmen!" Another of the spectacular DeMille pictures, which was in production. It will be seen in its entirety when it comes to be quite effective.

REFLECTIONS ABOUT STARS

The greatest difficulty encountered during the filming of the picture was the offstage noise supplied by the animals, the noise serving to drown out the dialogue.

SURPRISES FEATURE FRIDAY'S RACE MEET AT EXHIBITION

ANS by
—BILL LEWIS—

The only mar on the week's racing at the Exhibition came yesterday afternoon when a fine crowd (about 1000) came down in the middle of the program to see the first of the better racing in the city. Just when everyone had been made up with a five-minute wait had been for the racing the rain came and the race was postponed. It had an adverse effect on the betting and cut the day's money "handle" to lower figures than the corresponding day last year, but it was still a highly satisfactory week.

Given a really good afternoon, the deficit of Friday might be wiped out today.

The annual talk about a fall race meet is being revived around a close but there is no definite indication that one might be staged. Every year, at this time, there has been talk of a fall meeting but just as often it has fallen through.

It is doubtful if any city on the continent has shown the imagination as a racing center as Edmonton has in the last few years, but nothing has been done yet about getting regular meets.

Officials are enthusiastic over the success of the first and last year went in the extent of the racing and the number of spectators to take it over but eventually did nothing about it all. Whether they will this year remains to be seen.

While the race meeting draws to a close, today there is a search of the week's racing and the world are coming here for the week's racing and expect to catch up on new records for the half-mile.

It is one of the factors there is for the half-mile, one of the times should be some new times made.

Dan McLennan, one of the most consistent winners of the week, was captured in the week's racing by the late runner, who was captured in the week's racing by the late runner, who was captured in the week's racing by the late runner.

Incidentally, another Edmonton favorite, Bud Spencer, who picked the late runner, who was captured in the week's racing by the late runner, who was captured in the week's racing by the late runner.

Varsity Students Have Four Games Compete in Meet At London Today

LONDON, July 21.—Crack athletes of four universities took in Britain and took in the United States last night, looking forward to a football meeting on a track and field meet at the White City Stadium. Highlights of the meet were the 100-yard dash, in which the Canadian team, led by the late runner, who was captured in the week's racing by the late runner, who was captured in the week's racing by the late runner.

Seven Favorites Are All Defeated During Afternoon

Pert Peggy Wins Feature Even in Close Race Over Peach Stone

The fifth afternoon of the racing at the Exhibition, Friday, was marked by several surprises. The most important occurrence was the complete rout of the seven favorites, the whole outfit of seven marked choices being knocked clean out of the frame.

Next worry was the pivotal visitation prior to (and long after) the fourth race. There was a torrential rainstorm that soon reduced the racing dirt to a series of pools of water, and left the portion not actually flooded a sloppy mess. Fortunately the downpour ceased before the seventh or eighth race. The race was a disappointing one, however, which few will question. 1,087.68 was the total of wagers, the grand prize in three-quarters of an hour!

SOME FEATURES
Outside of these things, everything was all right. Notable items were as follows: Willy Matter rode two winners in heavy fashion. Mrs. Nuge was the subject of three claims. The first race, the "mucksters anxious to coral the third race." The first race, the "mucksters anxious to coral the third race."

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

THE WALRUS

IS FOUND ONLY IN THE FAR NORTH... IN THE ARCTIC OCEAN AND ITS ADJACENT COASTS / NEXT TO THE WHALE, IT IS THE LARGEST OF ALL SEA-GOING MAMMALS, REACHING A WEIGHT OF 1½ TONS.

WALRUSES ONCE BOAMED MUCH FARTHER SOUTH, BUT CONSTANT PERSECUTION BY HUNTERS, WHO HUNTED THEM FOR THEIR IVORY TUSKS, THEIR BLUBBER, AND OIL, DROVE THEM INTO THE POLAR REGIONS.

THE TUSKS, WHICH GROW TO A LENGTH OF THIRTY INCHES, SERVE THE ANIMAL AS WEAPONS, LANDING HOOKS, AND AS TOOLS FOR DIGGING CLAMS.

POLAR BEARS

ARE THE ONLY FOUR-FOOTED CREATURES IN THE LAND OF THE WALRUS THAT DARE ATTACK IT.

SEA LIONS

AND SEALS ARE COUSINS OF THE WALRUS... ALL BEING ANIMALS THAT ARE CHANGING INTO MARINE DWELLERS.

WALRUSES ARE NOT FOUND IN MANY ZONES, BECAUSE OF THEIR ADAPTATION / ONE ANIMAL CAN EAT SEVERAL HUNDRED POUNDS OF FISH DAILY!
